GOPRO RECOVERED AFTER SIX YEARS UNDERWATER

And it still works! Rose Zhang, a volunteer with the nonprofit Ocean Defenders Alliance, was participating in a clean-up operation near the Spitting Caves on the South Side of Oahu when she came across a GoPro camera, still sealed in its waterproof case. She posted the last video from the camera to Facebook in the hopes of finding its owner. It showed the camera's owner Nainoa Kamai, and some friends jumping into the water from the Spitting Caves rocks in 2014, when he was 18. The GoPro and owner were soon reunited. UPI

TIME IS RUNNING OUT FOR SHARKS AND RAYS

The number of sharks found in open oceans has plunged by 71 percent in the last half-century, mainly due to over-fishing, says research scientist Dr. Richard Sherley of the University of Exeter (UK). Of the 31 species studied, 24 are now threatened with extinction. Three shark species (the oceanic whitetip shark and the scalloped and great hammerhead sharks) have declined so sharply they are now classified as critically endangered -- the highest threat category (IUCN). BBC
